

Collection Spring Summer 2009

For the Season Spring/Summer 2009 the collection have been expanded in the part “stretch cotton” in the selection of the cloth and also the styles

As for Winter 08 the young styles have been accepted by the customers very well, this part has been extended for Spring/Summer 09. So the appearance of the LUIGI MORINI program becomes more and more young.

Eye catchers as nice buttons, special stitching, sportive pockets and new fashion belts are the characteristics of this line.

Also the inside of the trousers have been improved. Coloured edging bands around the pockets, pipings in the waistbands and also shirt breakes fullfil the new designs.

Most part of the articles is with structures. It has been taken care to select decente form of expressions. Most part of the material is pigment dyed and shows their sportive optic after industrial washing process.

A new trend is linen material and linen optic structures.
Main focus qualities firm unis in bambus, Pima, Kapok, and X 400 in five pocket trousers.

The colours are in natural tons and have been completed with exotic colours.

The label “Marcello Marabotti” has been taken new into the program. This has been installed

Caused by the excellent quantities of the orders for Winter 08 Season the jackets and suit program has been build up also for Spring/Summer 09. So this part of the collection will be an important one for sales of the customers.

The sportive Cotton Jacket Line has been supplemented by further sportive styles with new pocket types and sportive threads.
There have been selected plain materials and materials with structures for this part. Also some fashion checks are in the collection.

New in the program there is a new jacket type to appeal the sportive group of the clients.

The classic part of the program is basing on the sure classic designs as smal structures near by uni and some decente checks
